

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT OR ENHANCEMENT

Next Generation Business Continuity Program (BCP)

You've just read a news report on an incident with security and BC implications at another organization, are you confident Security would be able to handle a similar event in your organization? Is there a BC program in existence but not an experienced professional leading it? BC is an add-on responsibility without dedicated personnel supporting it? Has there been a significant failure and management is expecting an extreme BCP makeover?

Duty of care and brand protection are crucial for today's organizations to maintain a positive place in the marketplace. Is your BCP prepared to support this?

How can SEC help?

- Identify gaps and opportunities.
- Compare your program to others including best-in-class companies.
- Help develop executive/cross-functional leader "buy-in" plan and communication.
- Assist in helping make development plans and roadmaps.
